COMPETITIVE EXAM FOR COAST GUARD SERVICE

Applicants Should See the Commandant Before December 17

OFFICERS TO GET $1,700

Captain H. M. Royden, commandant, has received from the Custom House, Baltimore, Md., information concerning the qualifications necessary for young men who seek appointments as cadets of the line and cadet engineers in the Coast Guard. Any one seeking such offices should confer immediately with Captain Royden.

A competitive examination for both branches of service will be held December 17. This examination will cover modern languages, history, mathematics and engineering. A rigid physical examination will also be given.

The requirements for applicants for the line are age, 18 to 24; minimum height, five feet six inches. They will receive $500 a year, with one ration daily while in training. The age limit for the cadet engineers is from 20 to 25, a college course in engineering is necessary, and the pay is $75 a month, with one ration daily or 45 cents a day.

The courses of study at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., requires three years for a cadet of the line and one year for a cadet engineer. Upon graduation from the academy, the cadets are commissioned by the President as third lieutenants, which rank is equivalent to the second lieutenant in the army or ensign in the navy. When commissioned, the officer's salary will be $1,700 a year.

The battalion of the University has been measured to the last man, and the Kaufman Clothing Co. has rushed out the orders for uniforms.

They hope soon to have the battalion properly garbed in the olive drab, but due to the disturbed conditions, they are in no position to say when the uniforms will be completed.

With lectures on Monday and Thursday by Captain Royden, West Point graduate, and practical experience in drill maneuvers on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, the thirty-eight juniors and seniors enrolled in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps are gradually becoming well trained in the intricate business of fighting.

DR. MCVEY AT ENGLISH CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the English Club will be held Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Dean Anna J. Hamilton on South Limestone. Dr. Frank McVey will speak to the club, and the meeting will give an opportunity to all the members to meet President McVey.

MIAMI DOES BIG BIT FOR FRIENDSHIP FUND

Four thousand three hundred and sixty dollars in eleven hours was the record of Miami University in the Student Friendship Fund campaign, held there recently. Four thousand dollars was the allotment of the University, which overpledged this amount $360, within eleven hours. Ninety per cent. of the faculty and student body contributed to the fund.

STRONG ALABAMA TEAM PLAYS CATS SATURDAY

Weight and Record Gives Odds To Visiting Team From the South

TO BE HARD FOUGHT GAME

The Wildcats will face one of the best teams seen here this year when the heavier, more experienced team from the University of Alabama arrives to furnish their part of the Wildcat menu.

Alabama has lost but one game this season and that to Kentucky's rival, Vanderbilt. This was called the best, hardest fought game the McGugin team has played this year. It is admitted that the Alabama team outplayed the Vandy boys in nearly every part of the game. In the third quarter Vanderbilt was unable to make a first down against them. They completed eight passes out of fourteen attempts for a total distance of 106 yards. Vanderbilt made one pass of seven yards. They made first downs sixteen times to Vandy's seven. They tied Sewanee 3 to 3, and defeated the University of Mississippi and Mississippi College.

After such a record the Alabamans look rather formidable, but the fighting spirit of the Wildcats is to be considered.

The game Saturday will probably be the hardest fought on Stoll Field this season. There has never been such pep in the rooters' section; there has never been a green team in the school that fought as they have fought. Kentucky's stride into the affairs of the S. I. A. A. has made an impression and Kentucky has often proved herself worthy of consideration in the championship race.

Alabama outweighs Kentucky in line and backfield. Their line averages 175 pounds, the backfield 165. From 190 pounds to 155 is the range of the weights. The line-up and weights follow: Lowman, l. e. 170; Rowe, l. t. 180; Brown, l. g. 190; Session, c. 170; Johnson, r. g. 180; Captain Hovater, r. t. 185; Hastings, r. e. 165; Stovers, q. b. 155; Emmett, l. h. 157; Stephenson, f. b. 168; O'Connor, r. h. 163.

ALL LOYAL U. K. GIRLS MEET TODAY AT NOON

Mass Gathering of University Women in Patriotic Meeting

ARE YOU A SLACKER?

Are you a slacker? This epithet will be applied to every girl in the University who does not attend the mass meeting at noon today, in chapel. The meeting will begin promptly at 12:05, and will close promptly at 12:30. Students will sit by classes, class rolls will be in the hands of the presidents, and slackers will be noted.

This meeting is held as the last drive in the Student Friendship Fund campaign. The fund is still undersubscribed. Patterson Hall girls have averaged higher in their subscriptions than town girls. There are 270 girls in the University, with 115 of these in Patterson Hall. Lexington is noted for the generosity and patriotism of its men. Are its girls slackers?

All who have already subscribed to the fund are expected to come to the mass meeting as they will be particularly interested. Those who have not subscribed will be given this opportunity. More than 400 of the sons of the University have entered the service of the country. This is the test for its daughters. They are called on to sacrifice not life, but some little pleasure. Today's action will decide whether the girls of the University of Kentucky are as loyal to its traditions and their government as the boys.

U. K. MAN IN SERVICE STILL A CARTOONIST

Herbert Felix, alumnus of the University, now in the Kentucky Signal Corps of the 8th Division, Camp Shelby, Mississippi, has been made associate editor of the Liberty Guard, a 38th Division weekly newspaper.

A copy of the Guard recently received by Ezra A. Gillis contains a clever cartoon by Felix, entitled, "Could She But See Him Now." It pictures a solitary sentry standing guard on a hill-top as the sun rises up over the hill. Under the cartoon Felix has penned the following lines:

"When moonlight o'er the sooth pine
In soft effluence gleams,
R. Angeline, R. Lady Mine,
Dost thou remember Jeams?"

(With apologies to Thackeray.)

On reply to the letters sent out by the Registrar with the question, "Do you wish a Christmas letter?" Felix printed across the copy of the Guard received here, in large letters, "Christmas Letters? Yes, indeed."

SOLDIERS SENT CANDY BY PATT. HALL GIRLS

Girls of Patterson Hall contributed more than $10 for candy to be sent by the Girls' Honor Guard of Lexington to the United States troops in France for Christmas. The candy is all homemade. It will be packed in tin boxes and sent November 15, in order to reach France for Christmas in good shape. Miss Jane Crawford had charge of the money and candy making from Patterson Hall.

REFORM FOR CARE OF FEEBLE-MINDED NEEDED

Dr. Johnson Tells of Danger From Feeble-minded in Kentucky

$800,000 BEING USED NOW

Dr. Alexander Johnson, representing the Kentucky Commission on Feeble-mindedness, spoke in chapel Tuesday on the feeble-minded in Kentucky. He appealed to the boys present to use their influence with their legislators for reforms within the State in the care of the feeble-minded.

Dr. Johnson said: "The State of Kentucky was the fourth to have a school for the feeble-minded, but it has gone no farther. We spend $800,000 within the State for this work, and get nothing for it. Different methods are needed now for treating this problem. Today we realize that it is not only necessary to train the feeble-minded, but they must be kept under control always.

"The feeble-minded are like children, immature in mind. They are found in the public schools, where they stay in one grade until they outgrow the furniture. Then they are advanced. They are found in reformatories. Most of the delinquents are really feeble-minded and should be treated as such. They are found in hospitals for the insane, where no distinction is made between feeble-mindedness and insanity.

"The problem is how to prevent their increase, for they are increasing. It has been proved that feeble-mindedness is inherited. The children of feeble-minded parents are invariably feeble-minded. From this affliction follow crimes of all kinds. The remedy is in taking proper care of the feeble-minded we have now and preventing their increase. No more money is needed than is already appropriated for this use, but wiser methods must be adopted.

"At present $65,000 of the $300,000 goes to the school at Frankfort. Some is used in the asylums, some in reformatories and almshouses, which include feeble-minded among their inmates. All this should be

CRIPPLED CATS LOSE TO MISSISSIPPI TEAM

An Unlucky Stumble Prevents the Wildcats From Scoring

OPEN PLAY FEATURES

Open play on the part of both teams, the broken field running of the A. & M. backs, and the usual exhibition of Kentucky's ends in running down on punts, were the features of the game at Starkville, Saturday, when the Wildcats were defeated 14 to 0.

In the second quarter Wilhelm punted and the ever ready Riddle was down on the Aggie before he could move. The tackled man fumbled the ball, and Heber was there to pick it up. With a lead of 15 yards on the nearest pursuer, and a clear field to the goal, the fast little end stumbled and lost the great chance. A Wildcat recovered the ball but the chance to score was lost.

Two splendid forward passes by the Mississippi team marked its only advantage over the Wildcats in the first half. The usual stiffening attitude assumed by the Wildcats whenever their goal was threatened prevented a score by the heavier team in the first half. Near the end of the second period, a forty-yard run by a Mississippi back, and a successful pass placed the ball on the Kentuckians' ten-yard line as the whistle blew.

Evidently the stubborn resistance by the famed Wildcats to the attacks of the Aggies put a stronger spirit of determination into the opposing team, and Captain Bobo led his team back on the field at the sound of the third whistle in a different state of mind. Then he began a series of passes, rapid and generally successful, which took the ball to the Wildcats' ten-yard line again. Two plunges thru the line by the ripping Aggie backs resulted in a touchdown in spite of the "pile-em-up" spirit of the blue and white team. Howell kicked goal.

The withdrawal of Captain Bobo and the work of his successor Leonard in line bucking and repeated attacks on Kentucky's harried line brought another touchdown in the fourth quarter. The goal was kicked.

In a last desperate endeavor to score, Kentucky uncorked her botie of forward passes and threaten-

STUDENTS ENTERTAINED BY FAMOUS LECTURER

Dr. Southwick Holds Interest of Audience With His Acting

NINE SCENES OF LEAR

On Tuesday afternoon in Chapel, Dr H. L. Southwick, President Emerson School of Oratory, of Boston, in a superb reading of King Lear, interested about 300 students for more than an hour.

Dr. Southwick, some thirty-five years ago, lectured to the students of the University and was highly appreciated; but since that time he has become famous, and Tuesday he returned to the same rostrum, a man with a worldwide reputation, to which the student body did full justice by turning out in a mass and filling the chapel until there was scarcely standing room.

In the course of the afternoon, Dr. Southwick presented nine of the principal scenes of this tragedy, which by some is considered Shakespeare's greatest, especially in grim and titanic suffering. His impersonation of the character of the aged king, the fool and that most beautiful of Shakespeare's feminine creations, Cordelia, was perfect. Many impersonators go beyond bounds in the interpretation of the character of Lear, but not so with Southwick, who always seemed to keep before the minds of his audience the fact that Lear was not insurably insane and that all times he was a king and every inch a king.

FIRST "K" DANCE IS A DECIDED SUCCESS

The first "K" dance of the year was given Friday evening, November 9, in Buell Armory. The dance was largely attended by the students and their friends. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the 1918 Kentuckian.

The chaperones were, Dr. and Mrs. Boyd, Captain and Mrs. Royden, Judge and Mrs. Lafferty, Dean Anna J. Hamilton, Professor and Mrs. Zembrod, Mrs. S. H. Harbison, Miss Adelaide Crane and Miss Hopkins. The floor committee was, Tilford Wilson, Headley Shouse and Henry Richards.

Miss Katherine Trapp and Lieutenant Alden H. Waitt were married Sunday afternoon at "Eothen," the country home of Mrs. Oliver Redd. Lieutenant Waitt will be stationed at Camp Taylor in Louisville for some time and will probably be sent to France some time this winter.

SCHOLARSHIP CUP IS WON BY CHI OMEGA

Woman's Panhellenic Association, of the University, held a patriotic mass meeting at Patterson Hall Saturday night, when the $100 pledged by Panhellenic to the Student Friendship War Fund was formally presented, and the scholarship cup awarded.

The cup was won by Chi Omega, which had an average of 89.88 for the year 1917-18. Alpha Gamma Delta came next with an average of 89.84. After this came Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Alpha Xi Delta.

Mrs. Mary Love Collins, national president of Chi Omega, addressed the gathering on the subject of "Patriotism." After the patriotic program, the meeting was converted into a dance, where the girls took the part of men. This meeting was held in place of the annual Panhellenic banquet.

BONFIRE RALLY TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

If you have ever been near a bonfire rally on the campus, you need only to read this first paragraph. If you have never enjoyed that privilege, read further. There will be a bonfire football rally Friday night at 7:30 in the hollow back of the old dormitory.

To the Freshmen it may be stated that no gathering on the campus is so thoroly pleasurable and hilarious as a fire rally. There the interest in the team and school reaches its acme. There the school orators soar to heretofore unknown heights, there the captain of the team is cheered the longest and the loudest. There the heart grows as warm from pep as the face does from the rising flames. And speaking of flames! Know those old tar barrels behind the Civil building? They are doomed to cremation.

DEBATING BOOKS PUT ON LIBRARY SHELVES

The University Library has recently received several new titles in the "Debaters' Handbook Series." These books give briefs, references and readings on subjects of the day and are good reference material for debaters.

The following subjects are covered by the recent volumes:

Agricultural credit, American merchant marine, capital punishment, employment of women, free trade and protection, income tax, prison reform, trade unions.

The second volume of the University Debaters' Annual (1915-16) has also been added to the Library. It records the work of debaters in the principal American colleges and universities. Among the subjects included in this number are: International Police, Compulsory Military Service, City Manager Plan, National Prohibition.

CRIPPLED CATS LOSE

ed the Aggies' goal several times. The threatened ones braced, however, and no score was made. Howell, of Mississippi, tried a field goal in this quarter, but failed, and the whistle ended the game.

Kentucky's defensive was up to a high standard and the offensive, the despair of some rooters, was better than in several past games. A total of 200 yards was gained on the Mississippi team. Riddle was responsible for most of this. He and Heber were the stars.

At the end of the game another beautiful chance to score was ruined by the whistle. After a long pass from Baugh to Pullen the ball was placed on the 5-yard line of the Aggies in Kentucky's possession on the first down. Everybody was up in the air and the Wildcats confess they had evil thoughts as to their subsequent actions, when the whistle blew, and all was over.

The summary and line-up follow:

Kentucky.	A. & M.
Dempsey	Hurst
Bastin	Oswalt
• Right Guard
Murphree	East
Right Tackle
Heber	Billingsly
Right End
D. Downing	Kelley
Left Guard
Moore	Morris
Left Tackle
Hedges	Allen
Left End
Riddle	Howell
Quarterback
Shanklin	Leonard
Left Half
Wilhelm	McCullen
Right Half
Dishman	McWilliams
Fullback

Substitutions: By Kentucky—Brittain for Hedges; Walker for Shanklin; Baugh for Dishman; Adair for Wilhelm; Bobo for Leonard; Perry for McCullen; Oakes for East.

Officials: Thomas, Purdue, referee; Lang, Oklahoma, umpire; Billingsly, head linesman.

Touchdowns—Sanders, Howell. Goals from touchdowns—Sanders, Howell.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Eighty-five in the shade and no shade! The same old Mississippi-U. K. story. Maybe the Aggies were more used to it than the Wildcats.

Plucky Brit had to get in. It would take two bad legs to keep him out.

No green team we have heard of this year gets the praise the Wildcats do for their hard playing against odds. It's the spirit.

Well, no students came back from Starkville in the same mood as they did from Danville.

Life is just one big game after another for us. No Wildcat confines his preying activities to rabbits.

devoted to one educational institution, with proper facilities for separating the men and women into two colonies, with suitable employment and recreation for both. Here they should remain as long as they live.

"A feeble-minded person is more dangerous than one insane. For direct assault is far better than the decadence of citizenship, and such a danger confronts the country now. Two questions should be asked your legislators, 'What are you going to do about the feeble-minded? When are you going to do it?'"

AT THE ADA MEADE

Five Keith features head the bill at the Ada Meade, starting Thursday afternoon. The entire bill is one of laughter, the big stuff being of the uproarious kind. Haymond and Black have some character offerings that are better than anything shown here before. Three pretty girls have a singing and dancing act that will be remembered for a long time. A little playlet dealing with the trials of a newly married man comes next. The sketch is said to be very original and the principals are of unusual ability. A balancing act of reputation closes the bill. One other Keith act not yet announced completes the day's offering.

Starting next Monday an epoch making show will be given to the people.

Bring Them Back Clean.

As one reflects upon the American home, a home perhaps that has offered for sacrifice the most princely offering that it can give—a boy—to make democracy safe and the world a decent place to live in, one question that invariably arises is, whether when that son returns to that home, battle-worn, broken, hungry perhaps, but a hero still, he will come back as clean a citizen as when he left. Frankly speaking, we believe that those whose hearts were left desolate when they told him good-bye would answer that they would rather see him come back with hands folded above a death-chilled heart, with the flag wrapped about him, than that he should return tainted with the immorality and evil habits which in previous wars have viciated army life.

Never since the dawn of creation has the war god demanded tribute so great as he demands today. The American army is not made up of adventurers or men from the slums; the manliest youths of every community, the backbone of the Nation, are hastening to the firing line. They have heard the wailing cry of ravished Belgium, seen the immortal stand made by glorious France, fire-swept and bleeding, battling hand to hand with the barbaric Hun. Unwilling to see democracy perish from the earth they have offered their lives.

The kind of men that have answered this call is the kind of men that America will need when these boys come home.

It is the earnest desire of the Y. M. C. A. to see that these men come back as they went. An effort has been made to furnish them places in which they may read, write home and spend their few spare hours in comfort. Patriotism has always cost something. Today millions are gladly paying its price with their lives.

This University has been assigned its portion of a fund to carry on the work of the Y. M. C. A. Most of the students have done their part by voluntary subscription. Subscriptions from those who have not done their bit will be appreciated however small they may be.

Prepare.

It is gratifying to note the serious attitude that students are taking toward their work this year. The "cutting" of classes and the idling of time have been reduced to a minimum.

These are hours fraught with tremendous possibilities and these possibilities carry with them the duty of preparation that will fit us to meet them. Many of the responsibilities left behind by the boys who are going to the Nation's defense at the front must be taken up by those who stay at home. After the war these responsibilities will be great, for when the thin ranks come filing back from Europe many who marched away will probably never return. Their places must be taken by others in every walk of life. It is the imperative duty, therefore, of every student, so to prepare now, as to be ready to meet the exigencies of the tremendous and uncertain hours that await.

ORIGINAL ORATIONS AT SOCIETY MEETING

The Union Literary Society, after a lapse of two weeks, held a meeting Saturday night. The members were entertained with three original orations. Robert Mitchell chose as his subject, "Music," and showed that it "hath charms to soothe the savage beast" of all save a few hostile gridiron demons. E. E. Rice depicted a thrilling gladiatorial scene. "A Foreigner" was the subject of Bill Lindsay's speech.

Addresses were made on an appropriate theme by Foster, a new member, winner of oratorical honors at Georgetown last year, and John Price, instructor in the English department.

The members reconciled themselves to "Woman Suffrage" as the subject for the annual inter-society debate. A large number will participate in the free-for-all tryout in December.

STUDENTS' FORUM

THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Editor of "Kernel":

It has been a long time since the Wildcats were counted out of the Kentucky championship race just before Thanksgiving, and it has been a long time since they were not allowed to play a deciding game on Thanksgiving day on their own or their enemy's field.

This year, the toe of one McMullan, planted, we understand, in a place to which it was unaccustomed, knocked U. K.'s hopes into a cocked hat as far as the championship turkey meal on their menu was concerned. There will be no State championship game in Lexington for the first time in many years. Instead the humble town of Danville will witness the awarding of the mythical pennant that raises a team out of the ordinary run and gives its rooters something to rub in on the other schools till they are hushed by a later defeat. Then will be decided who is who in 1917 football in Kentucky.

To discuss the reasons why others are not entitled to be whos is to furnish one of the best alibis any team has ever had. The little city of Lexington has often been in the eyes of the Nation. Named after one of the most celebrated towns connected with the early history of our country, she has never had reason to be ashamed of the brand of patriotism she wears. This spirit has entered the halls of the two schools located here and has borne fruit in the Nation's need. No school in the State can compare with Transylvania in her war record. Of the forty Transylvania men attending the first officer's training camp at Indianapolis, the whole forty received commissions. These men, with those who enlisted in the navy and army, left only one man in the University who played varsity football last year. Around him a necessarily weak team has been built, and the Crimsons need feel no shame if they are not contenders for State honors.

University of Kentucky men have been just as ready as their erstwhile enemies on the north side of town to rush to the colors. The athletes of both schools were the first to answer the Nation's call. Only two men, and one of them drafted, were left for the coach to use as nucleus around which to build a team. In spite of this handicap, the Wildcat spirit, famous over the South, was instilled into the raw recruits, and a strong defensive machine resulted. Their determination in the game has saved them many times from heavy defeat, and they have upheld the old-time reputation of the Kentucky Cats by holding to small scores teams they had no logical right to hold. Their greatest shortcoming was the absence of an offensive as good as their defensive.

Maybe the Athens of the South, the queen of the Blue Grass, and the home of the Wildcats, Lexington, has not diffused its patriotic spirit as it should. If the other schools of the State had imitated Lexington's example, the football teams would have been more nearly matched. But the comfortable feeling of a duty well done, will more than annul the sting of a lost State championship.

M'VEY COMING MONDAY FOR TWO WEEKS' STAY

Days To Be Filled With Meetings of All Kinds

MRS. M'VEY TO COME

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University, will arrive in Lexington next Monday afternoon for a two weeks' visit at the University. Mrs. McVey will probably accompany him on this visit.

The days of Dr. McVey's visit will be as busy as usual with appointment's executive meetings, interviews and public speakings. He will address the English Club at the home of Dean Anna J. Hamilton on South Limestone street at 8 o'clock on the evening of his arrival.

Wednesday he will meet with the Executive Board of the University in its regular session. Thursday afternoon at 3:30, the council meeting will be held with Dr. McVey presiding. At the same hour, Friday afternoon, he will meet the faculty of the University in regular session.

The program committee of the Eastern Educational Association has asked Dr. McVey to address the members of the Association gathered here in convention November 30-December 1. His address to them on December 1 is heralded as one of the best features of the convention.

While here, Dr. and Mrs. McVey will probably lease a furnished house near the University, and make that their home until the President's home is completed.

HOME EC'S AND AGGIES MAKE MERRY TOGETHER

A person entering the Y. M. C. A. rooms about 8 o'clock Monday evening when the "Home Ec's" and "Ags" gave their annual party would no doubt have thought it was Thanksgiving, judging from the abundant baskets of apples, bananas and grapes that were being passed around.

This feast was a sort of second course, for the program committee had arranged a very delightful preliminary entertainment, when Miss Elizabeth Leonhard sang, and Prof. W. S. Anderson gave a short talk on the opportunities of the college-trained man and woman for leadership. Misses Helen Taylor and Mildred Feller played a violin duet as the closing number of the program.

The more frivolous part of the evening began with the old familiar "cracker eating" contest. R. A. Belt was the first to whistle and as a reward for this feat was presented a dollar bill. The large baskets of fruit were next passed and the main form of entertainment for the rest of the evening was emptying them.

ALUMNUS IN SERVICE AT CAMP UPTON, L. I.

Walter Kiesel, an alumnus of the University of Kentucky, now a member of the Field Signal Bureau, U. S. Army, has been transferred to Camp Upton, Long Island.

Camp Upton has 200 barracks, each accommodating 200 men.

Mr. Kiesel has been with Radio Company, 307 Field Signal Bureau, Camp Gordon, Chamblee, Georgia, since enlisting.

JUDGE KERR TALKS AT UNIV. WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club of the University of Kentucky held its regular monthly meeting, Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. Morton Davis in Madison Place, with Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Paul P. Boyd as associate hostesses. About forty members were present. A short business session was first held, Mrs. M. L. Pence, the president, presiding.

In the hour that followed Judge Charles Kerr spoke on the war situation. He emphasized the seriousness of the situation and the need for universal service. Mrs. L. L. Dantzler sang, "A Spirit Flower," Tipton; "A Cradle Song," Kate Bannah; "Our Flag," Emily Frances Bauer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Roberts, in Transylvania Park.

TWO K MEN BACK FOR BASKET BALL SEASON

U. K. basket ball prospects are bright in spite of the spectre of a green team that seems to haunt college athletics this year.

Two "K" men are back in school ready to go on the floor. The long boy, Pat Campbell, and George Zerfoss, who was at Vanderbilt last year, will probably furnish the nucleus for the team. Anderson, Marsh, Parker and McKinney are back. Each of them had a chance to show his worth on the floor last year. Great things may be expected of them.

It is rather early to pick out new material, but thus far some men have announced their intention of trying out. Most of them have played on high school teams before and will doubtless increase the strength of the varsity. They are, Shanklin, Riddle, Bastin, Thomas, Wilhelm, Prothero, Dishman and Poindexter. Daddy Boles expects a squad of sixty men.

As yet no certain schedule has been arranged, but the usual custom of going after the big game will be followed.

Of course the Tennessee team and the quintet from Vanderbilt will appear on the program if it can possibly be arranged. Georgetown, Centre, Wesleyan and Miami are also prospective opponents.

LECTURE AT CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Martin Fisher, of the University of Cincinnati, gave an illustrated lecture on "Emulsion Chemistry and Its Applications to Scientific, Industrial and Biological Problems," before the regular meeting of the Lexington section of the American Chemical Society, held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the Physics building.

ALPHA ZETA PLEDGES SIX NEW MEN FRIDAY

Professor Marraker and Dean Roberts Speak in Chapel

CHARACTER IS STRESSED

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, pledged six men in chapel last Friday before a large audience. The men pledged were F. S. Lancaster, F. F. Elliott, S. Gill, L. E. Steinhauser and S. H. Shouse.

Prof. P. E. Karraker, of the Agricultural College, spoke. He said in part: "Every organization now in existence is being called upon to prove its right to live and continue in its usual functions. Alpha Zeta is no exception. It must prove, and I can safely say it has proved its ability to be of use and count for something in its profession. Men from this fraternity have been called upon to serve their country and they have done it well. It is the purpose of Alpha Zeta to mark men who have proved themselves worthy and to help them become greater leaders than they are now."

Dean Roberts said further: "We are not honoring these men today. They are not here to feel proud of the pins they wear or to look down upon men in their class not so fortunate as themselves. They receive here a greater responsibility than they have ever had before. They are here to be impressed with what is to be expected of them later. Alpha Zeta men must be men of good character, in addition to their standing as good students, because the business of this world requires character plus scholarship. These men will hold in their hands to a certain extent the control of the communities in which they locate. They may teach their agricultural lessons well, but as Alpha Zeta men they must realize the other responsibilities that lie upon them."
